To Whom It May Concern:

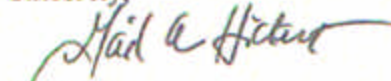

This is a letter of recommendation written for Matthew Bailey and his company Fighting Chance.

Recently, our Merchandising and Purchasing Departments at Current, Inc. used Mr. Bailey's services to develop and present a travel safety seminar to our Merchandisers and Buyers. The seminar was designed to meet what we considered some unique travel safety aspects for our company and included safety concerns of both domestic and foreign travel.

We found working with Mr. Bailey a pleasure and very informative. The seminar was a success and more than met our requirements. The feedback from all the participants (35 people) was very favorable. They particularly enjoyed the inclusion within the seminar of actual class participation in self-defense training. All seminar participants commented on Mr. Bailey's ability to "get them involved" and relate to their concerns when traveling. They found Mr. Bailey to be an energetic presenter and one who gained the confidence of the audience that "he knew what he was talking about!!"

We would not hesitate to use Mr. Bailey for any of our future safety seminars, and recommend him and Fighting Chance without reservations.

Sincerely,

Gail Hickert
