

To Whom it may concern,

As someone who has trained Aikido Continuously for over 22 years, I can testify to the authenticity of the martial arts principles underlying Sensei Bayley's instruction.

Sensei Bayley's grasp of martial arts principles is obvious to me, as it would be to anyone that has practiced martial arts for as long as I have. He has succeeded in integrating several martial arts to form his own art. That he has managed to do this successfully shows the grasp he has of those principles.

In addition, I have seen him manage and teach large groups of children of various personalities and abilities. He is an effective teacher of his art and an excellent model of behavior to his students. My son trained with Sensei Bayley and my wife and daughter took his self defense class for women.
